CHAUTAUQUA HAS FINE PROGRAM

Allen Packard on Program For Tonight's Entertainment.

The Redpath Chautauqua opened in Hickman Saturday afternoon and will close tonight with a concert by Victor Becker's Swiss Yodlers and Musical and Cartoon Revue by Allen Packard.

Notable among the numbers on the program have been the feature by Harry L. Fogelstein, the concert by Victor Becker's White Hussars and the comedy "Nothing But The Truth."

The program this year has been one of the best which the Redpath has brought to this city. It has been a varied program carrying with it entertainment for every one. Many of the numbers have in themselves been well worth the price of the season ticket.

One of the most celebrated numbers on the program will be the one tonight in the cartoon revue by Allen Packard. It is said that he is the highest priced single chautauqua performer on the platform today. An additional feature will be sketches of ten or twelve prominent men of the city made by Mr. Packard while here, which will be displayed in a prominent place.

The chautauqua this year has hardly made the guarantee, a slight deficit having been made up by the guarantors.

The superintendent, George Glass, and Miss Katherine Reiston, in charge of the children's hour each morning, are excellent people and have become very popular with the local people during their short stay with us.

HICKMAN BEATS FULTON 3 TO 0

Nemitz Hurts First Shot-Out for Locals Allowing Four Hits.

The locals went over to Fulton Tuesday for a single game and return with a three to nothing verdict over the Fulton lads.

Nemitz, for Hickman, outpawed his way to a decision by the shut out route when he let our neighborhood Fulton Comblains down with four widely scattered singles, some of them of the scratchy variety. The local pitcher had his curves and fast one breaking right and thirteen of the opposing team took three swings and went to the water bucket. Only once was Nemitz in danger of being scored on, when with a runner on second and third and one out, he struck out the next man for the second out and forced the last man to hit weakly to the infield.

Hickman scored one in the first inning when Grove singled and Mercer tripped to deep right center. In the third Nemitz singled and was sacrificed to second scoring when Grove hit one through the shortstop. In the seventh Mercer singled to center, stole second and scored when Needy singled down third base line.

A feature of the game, besides the pitching of Nemitz, was a shoestring catch by Thrasher in the first inning for the third out with two on.

Score by innings: R H E
Hickman 1 0 1 0 0 1 0 0-3 9 2
Fulton 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-0 4 2

Batteries: Nemitz and Garbner; Lentz, Hollmann and De Rosa.

THE TENNESSEAN TAKES A SHOT AT US

The following is clipped from The Nashville Tennessean of Thursday, June 9:

"Jess Nealey, former Vandy flycatcher departs today to cavort around first base for Hickman, Ky. The Commissioner is able to handle himself in any berth and should have no great trouble in Kentucky."

This virulent outburst is from the pen of Blinkey Horn, sporting editor of the Tennessean. It is wholly unfounded, lacking even the semblance of truth. It is hard to understand how such an absolutely unfounded report could get out. If it were not for the liability of the report being believed by some, it would be almost humorous. The report can hardly have come from Mayfield for there is not a fan in Mayfield who doesn't know Kay Bench, who pitched the game referred to. At first, it was claimed by the Mayfield team that the umpire took the game, but from this above distribute we presume it is now being ascribed to another cause. Be that as it may, such unfounded statements in a newspaper as widely circulated as the Tennessean cannot but do harm to the team and the city which it represents.

Mrs. DeWitt Reid and little son left Monday for Dumas, Ark., to spend a month with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Burrus and family.

Milton C. Anderson For Commonwealth Attorney

MILTON C. ANDERSON

To The Voters of Fulton County.

Following a time honored and well known custom of Kentucky, commencing a candidacy through the press of the county, I take pleasure in addressing to you through the columns of this paper my candidature for the office of Commonwealth Attorney of the First Judicial District of this Commonwealth. My term of office will expire on August 31st, 1921.

For many years I have had the pleasure of the acquaintance of many of the citizens of your great county but there are yet many with whom I am not intimately acquainted. A natural modesty forbids that I attempt to go into a lengthy presentation of my claimed qualifications for this important office. It might be well to say in passing that I was admitted to the practice of the law February 10th, 1910 and have since said time been actively engaged in the practice of law in the First Judicial District, as well as other districts of this and adjoining states and the United States Courts. My practice has brought me in contact with the best talent afforded by this great Commonwealth. I know full well that the Commonwealth's Attorney often has for opposing counsel very able lawyers in deed but I feel that my three and one-half years of experience as County Attorney of Ballard County has in no small measure added to my knowledge and experience in the practice of Criminal Law. I also am of the opinion that, while the office for which I seek, the nomination is very important one; that it should be filled, by not only a competent man but a conservative one to the end that the majesty of the law shall be maintained and not to the end that the office should become one of persecution.

I am making this race strictly upon my own qualifications; I have thus far progressed along life's journey, as a result of honest and earnest endeavor; have worked my own way through school and at one time had the honor, for a short time to be identified with the student body of Ball Moody Institute of your neighboring town, Martin, Tenn.

I behold a new element in the ranks of the electorate; one hitherto identified with every thing that was pure, sweet and beneficent and I have every reason to believe that in this new sphere; into which womanhood has come (and to many it might be said, unbidden and undesired) she will exert and manifest the beautiful characteristics of her sex, and bring with her that purifying and refining influence that hath ever attended her presence into whatever orb or circle she has moved. While many of you may not have coveted the ballot, it is now given to you and I am sure that you will, in availing yourself of elective franchise bring into requisition the natural intelligence peculiar to you; which added to the very high intellectual attainment of the women of this district, will enable you to cast your ballot for the ones best suited for the respective offices at the coming election. I welcome you into the ranks of our party, and respectfully ask that you, who do not already know me, make enquiry of my record both as a private citizen, a public spirited citizen and a public official and in the casting of your ballot may I respectfully say "Thy will not mine be done."

I submit to every voter of this county, that I am the youngest man in this race, being 34 years of age; that my experience in the practice of law, has been as extended as any of my opponents and perhaps more than some; that the County from which I come, Ballard, has not had the Commonwealth Attorney's office since the oldest man can remember; that our voice has ever been raised in the strongest manner within our power in behalf of Democracy; that before attaining majority the one who now addresses you raised his voice in public speaking espousing her cause. My duties as County Attorney will not permit me to see each of you between now and the election; though I shall attempt to see as many of you as possible. I make this personal appeal to you for your support.

Very Respectfully,

MILTON C. ANDERSON.

METHODIST SUNDAY SCHOOLS PICNIC

The men's bible classes of the Hickman and Fulton Methodist Sunday Schools enjoyed a fish fry on the banks of Hamby's Pond Friday. 158 were present when dinner was served. Delightfully cooked fish together with all that goes with it made up the menu. It was voted to make this occasion an annual one and an invitation was extended to the Union City and Martha classes to attend.

W. H. Johnston, on whose land the picnic was held, asks that it be announced that these grounds are free to any of the Sunday Schools of the city who may wish to hold their picnics.

ROUTEN-FELIX

News was received here the past week of the wedding of Fahn Routen, of this city, and Miss Eva Felix, of Akron, Ohio, the wedding occurring in Cleveland, Ohio, a short distance from Akron, on Sunday, the 5th. The groom was born and reared in this vicinity and is well known to Hickman people. He has been a resident of Akron for the past two or three years, returning here last winter for a few months, and is at the present time working for the Goodrich Rubber plant.

The guarantee of $1250 which was made by a large number of the citizens of Hickman to the Redpath Chautauqua for their program in the city this year was not met by the sale of season tickets. The deficit had to be made up by the guarantors.

There is now some talk of giving up the idea of having a chautauqua in the city next year, because of the fact that the program did not pay this year. This will be a step backward. Surely we do not wish to go backward. Other towns in our vicinity are making arrangements for its return next year.

The fact that a deficit had to be met this year by the guarantors does not mean that such a deficit will occur next year nor does it mean that should such occur, it will be as hard to pay. Hickman cannot afford to let the chautauqua go—the one means of entertainment which has been provided heretofore for towns of this size, which cannot be found fault with in a moral way.

Stonewall Brooks, the negro catcher on the Clinton colored baseball team, who was injured here last Sunday week, died a few days later. His injuries were very unusual, colliding with such force with the third baseman, both attempting to catch a foul ball, that he was injured internally. The team managed to get him to his home in Clinton after the game here and death resulted Wednesday morning. Both were running full tilt and with their heads back watching the ball, colliding with great force, and Brooks was hurled to the ground. A similar accident was never known in this section.

Through an election held and carried Saturday for an additional tax to maintain a consolidated school, Crutchfield is back under the county school system, instead of having a small graded system as of recent years.

DEATH OF MOSE BARKETT.

A telegram was received Monday by A. S. Barkett announcing the death Monday morning of Mose Barkett at his home in Wichita Falls, Tex., death resulting from tuberculosis. He had been in ill health for the past year or more and had been confined to his room for the past few months. He was taken the 11th of May to a tuberculosis camp at St. Angelo, Tex., but was returned home on May 30th, as an incurable, and his death was expected. Mose, as he was familiarly known to Hickman people, was well known here. He resided in Hickman for a good many years, operating stores in the lower bottom, in West Hickman and at the old Amberg stand, now a part of the St. Louis Furishing Company, also in the wholesale grocery business and other kind of business here, and his death is received with regret by his many friends here. He was a cousin of A. S. and W. S. Barkett, of this city. He is survived by his wife and two children, the youngest about eleven months old, also two sisters in Wichita Falls. He was born and reared in Jubelt, Syria, but came to this country about twenty-three years ago and lived immediately in this section. The funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at Wichita Falls. A. S. Barkett, of this city, left immediately after receiving the news of his death to attend the funeral, arriving Tuesday night.

Roy Waters, of Moundwood, was here the first of the week on business with the Mangel company.

Miss Nell Roderant entertained the Bridge Club on Friday evening at three tables of bridge. A salad course and iced tea were served. The guests were Mesdames W. B. Ashbore, C. T. Bondurant, Karl Tully, Gus Alexander, Horman Bradley, H. R. Turpin, Edward Prather and Misses Gerrie Male Road, Mary Nolan and Jack Binford.

Mrs. S. L. Harper of State Line is visiting her home Mrs. W. J. Harper and other relatives here.

DON'T RISK NEGLECT

Don't neglect a constant headache, sharp, darting pains or urinary disorders. The danger of dropsy or Bright's disease is too serious to ignore. Use Doan's Kidney Pills, as have your friends and neighbors. Ask your neighbor! A Hickman case:

Miss Emily Smith, Washington, St. says: "I think my back and kidneys became out of order from overwork. The action of my kidneys was irregular at times. My feet and limbs were swollen. My hands were also swollen and felt badly. I called a doctor, but he did me no good at all. A friend told me of Doan's Kidney Pills and I bought a box. I used two or three boxes of this remedy and it did me a lot of good. I can recommend Doan's, because I think they are a good kidney medicine." (Statement given October 18, 1916.)

On December 3, 1920, Miss Smith said: "I think just as much of Doan's Kidney Pills now as when I endorsed them in 1916. Since then I have had a slight attack of kidney trouble and I only needed to take a few Doan's until I was all right again. They are a wonderful medicine for kidney trouble." Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Miss Smith had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Tracing Origin of BilliardsBilliards is believed by some to have been brought from the East by the Crusaders, while others claim an English origin for it and find it allied to the game of bowls. Still others assert that the French developed it from an ancient German game. It seems pretty certain that the first person to give form and rule to the game was an artist named Henrique Desgline,

BOILER IN EARTH'S INTERIORConstant inflow of Sea is Said to Be Responsible for Destructive Earthquakes.One of the world's wonders of which few people have ever heard is at Argostoli in the island of Cephalonia, the largest of the seven Ionian islands.The power that drives the tide mills at Argostoli is derived from the sea, which rushes down from the land.
Many millions of gallons of salt water have run down into the interior of the earth in this manner.Experts believe that the water finds its way down through the soil and rocks to heated areas on beneath the surface, where it becomes steam.But where are the necessary openings for such escape of steam? The question is held by some that the answer to this mystery is to be found in the frequent activity of the ancient volcano.It is supposed that the intense volucanoes of Italy are the source of some of the earthquakes, and that the water which is rising from beneath the surface and coming up through the cracks in the earth is the cause of the earthquakes.Some scientists believe that if the inflow of the sea was stopped, earthquakes would be less frequent.Shunting Without LocomotivesRailroad yards are now being equipped with a system which obvi-ates the necessity of making use of a locomotive and its crew, merely for the purpose of shifting a car or two. An electric current was recently introduced for just such a purpose. The car, which is the device involved, consists of a powerful electric motor driving a system through a low resistance road. In order to pull one or two cars along the track, one end of a stem rope is made fast to a car while the other end is wrapped around the engine and pulled by the operator so as to tension it from behind.
A handle protruding through the engine casing serves to start and stop the motor.Telephone Statistics.From the bureau of census, Washington, D. C., the report on telephones which forms part of the census of electrical industries for 1917 can now be had. According to this report there were in that year 11,740,240 telephones in the United States, exclusive of certain railway, government and private lines. The estimated number of telephone calls made in 1917 was 2,600,000,000.
The value of the property owned by the telephone companies in 1917 was $2,629,000, and the value of the plant and equipment was $1,000,000,000. Seventy per cent of the property of the telephone companies was owned by the Bell system.ANNOUNCEMENTS.The following gentlemen authorize

PARENT-TEACHERS PICNIC.

The Parent-Teachers picnic given in honor of the young ladies attending the summer school here was given Friday night on the library grounds. A delicious picnic spread was prepared and every one present did full justice to it. The inclemency of the weather necessitated having most of the program indoors, but that did not interfere with the enjoyment of the guests, all of whom reported a most hilarious time.

KERLIN-FARIS.

A wedding of great interest to this community was that at last Saturday morning when Miss Light Faris of this city and O. B. Kerlin of Clinton, were married at eight o'clock at St. Paul's Episcopal Church. Dr. W. F. Remmenberg officiating. The wedding was a quiet affair with no decorations other than the wedding candles on the altar, but the simplicity added to the sacredness of the beautiful Episcopal wedding service. The bride's family preceded the wedding party into the church, led by Mr. and Mrs. Roy McKimney of Paducah, the latter a sister of the bride, who were the only attendants. Mrs. McKimney standing to the left of the bride and Mr. McKimney to the right of the groom. Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played by Miss M. M. Reynolds, accompanied by J. H. Moore on the violin as the wedding party entered the church, and during the recessional Louis Armstrong's Wedding Procession was played and during the ceremony they softly played "Somewhere a Voice Is Calling."

The bride wore a beautiful traveling dress of midnight blue with tan hat and accessories to match and the groom a blue business suit. Immediately after the ceremony they left in an automobile for Paducah where they took the train to Paducah and home that day took a boat at Paducah on a trip up the Tennessee River.

Mrs. Kerlin is a daughter of Mrs. Florence Faris and one of the best known ladies of this city, cultured and refined, interested in public work, a lady of unusual charm and character. She has been teacher in the public schools of this city for a number of years and is much beloved.

The groom is a splendid man, well known to Hickman people of sterling character and a fine gentleman. He is at the present time connected with a drug firm of Clinton. After a wedding trip up the Tennessee River they will be at home in Clinton. They have the best wishes of The Courier and the entire community and we regret to lose Mrs. Kerlin as a citizen of Hickman.

FULTON CIRCUIT COURT.

Wayne Thomas Trustee. Plaintiff vs. Noble of Sale of Real Estate. Nora V. Taylor & Defendants.

By virtue of a judgment and agreed order of sale of the Fulton Circuit Court, made at the January term, 1919, which order may be found in order book 25, on page 314, and which order was executed at the May term of court, 1921, as the surviving executor of the will of Joshua Naylor, deceased, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the court house door in Hickman, Kentucky, to the highest bidder at Public Auction, on the 11th day of July, 1921, at 2 o'clock p. m. or thereabout (being court day), upon a credit of six (6) months the following described real estate (the sale being for the purpose of division of the proceeds amongst the heirs at law of Joshua Naylor, deceased):

First Tract: Being in Fulton County, Kentucky and being the west half of the southwest quarter of section 5, township 1, range 3, west, containing 80 acres, more or less, as shown by the deed of record in deed book 3, page 134, Fulton County Court Clerk's office.

Second Tract: Lot No. 5 in Fulton County, which includes all that part of the northwest quarter of section 5, township 1, range 3, west, and supposed to contain 80 acres, more or less, and beginning at the northwest corner of section 5, running south with the section line 150 1/2 poles to a stake; thence east to Bayou de Chain, thence running with said creek to the section line; thence west with the section line to the section corner; and the land included in the following lines: Beginning at the northeast corner of section corner of the northeast quarter of section 7, and township 1, range 3, west, and commencing at the section corner and running thence south with the section line 150 1/2 poles to a persimmon corner with mulberry pointers; thence west 85 poles to a stake with hickory and sassafras pointers; thence north 150 1/2 poles to a stake with hickory pointers; thence east to the beginning, and supposed to be 125 acres.

For the purchase price the purchaser will execute his note with approved security, bearing six per cent interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment. I am authorized under the will and the order of sale to execute a deed to the purchaser, which with the purchase money note will be delivered by me to the Master Commissioner and by him held until the sale has been confirmed by the court at the September term.

This June 13, 1921.
J. W. Naylor, Surviving Executor under will of Joshua Naylor, deceased.

The wheat crop over the entire county is said to be turning out much better than expected and is making a splendid yield. In some cases it is yielding as much as thirty bushels an acre, which is a fine yield, and will, on an average, make twenty-five bushels to the acre. The crop early in the spring did not look so promising but with the excellent weather that followed came out wonderfully and developed and matured beyond expectation. Cutting began over two weeks ago over the county and threshing is now well under way.

Mrs. S. D. Stombridge entertained a few of the younger set Monday night after the Chautauqua at her home. The members of the Gratchon Cox Company which played at the Chautauqua that night, together with others connected with it, were also her guests. Cards were played on the lawn and dancing was indulged in in the house. At the close of the evening's entertainment a sandwich course and iced tea were served.

Judge F. S. Moore is again confined to his bed, suffering from malarial fever. He was just recovering from a several weeks illness of rheumatism and had been out only a few days.

FATNESS NO SIGN OF HEALTH

Increased Weight, After the Age of Forty, Rather a Danger Signal, Say Experts.

When a person becomes stout after about forty years of age it does not worry him, or her, unless the stoutness be so great as to cause discomfort or disfigurement. Nevertheless, the statistics of life insurance companies prove that increase of weight with age is not favorable to length of days, according to Drs. Irving Fisher and E. L. Fisk, the greatest authorities on insurance statistics.

"What are the burdens of old age and why does it shorten life?" asks the Journal of the American Medical Association. "Various answers, mostly indefinite in character, may be forthcoming in reply to this question. Tissue fat must be carried about like any other burden. We are reminded that overweight puts a strain on the heart and on the joints, and that it 'pushes up the diaphragm and cramps the lungs.' A gaining adult who is already overweight may find his physical activities restrained and bodily exertion made laborious. Accordingly, with an unchanged food intake the surplus of unused energy accumulates and a vicious cycle is presently established. The obese person inevitably limits his exercise; he grows heavier from the unused reserves, and his activity thereupon becomes even more restrained and limited. Overweight, obesity and lack of exercise interplay until 'big' becomes 'bigger.'"

And Dr. E. P. Joslin indicates fatness as responsible for diabetes.

PROVIDES FARMS FOR POOR

Self-Help Project Favored by Nebraska Philanthropist Seems Move in Right Direction.

H. D. Watson, millionaire farmer and philanthropist of Kearney, Neb., who is perhaps doing more than any other one man in the United States to make the "back-to-the-land" movement a reality, is in Alamosa investigating the advantages of the San Luis valley as a place to locate one of his community farm projects. O. E. Meyer writes in the Rocky Mountain News.

Mr. Watson already has acquired a tract of 300 acres at Carbondale, Colo., and is now making arrangements for starting one of his farm communities there. However, the Carbondale district is limited in extent and land is higher priced, and he found it inexpedient to acquire as large a tract as he wanted. He will settle a family on each 22 acres of the Carbondale tract, and the only condition which Mr. Watson places upon an applicant for one of his community tracts is that the applicant be absolutely without money or other property.

The tenant is located on the tract with all necessary tools, stock and seed furnished. In addition he is furnished with a sum of money during the first year. After that the land is expected to produce enough to make a living for the family and provide a sinking fund for paying for the land. In six or eight years the farmer, if he is the right sort, owns his land.

Mourning Chevrons on "Beer" Suits.

When the Princeton seniors appeared in their "beer" suits last year, with a black mourning band on the left sleeve, the idea was considered very silly. But they've beaten it this spring. The beer suits were broken out early this week, and they have three small black chevrons on the left cuff, each indicating six months of prohibition. The beer suit custom is indigenous to Princeton. Before the days of Volsteadism the suits—plain white "jumpers" and pantaloons—appeared, simultaneously with the beer beer signs, and gave unique distinction to the seniors, passing their last spring in scholastic trammels. Also, there were some jolly parties in certain cozy corners in the classic shades of the collegiate town. And maybe there are now—but in corners that are surreptitious as well as cozy.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

Facing Buildings With Pottery.

In a recent lecture before an English gathering Prof. Beresford Pite discussed the possibilities of ceramic products in the clothing of reinforced concrete skeleton buildings. Unlike many architects who regard traditional practice as something quite sacred, Professor Pite would throw the conventions of the past to the winds in order to meet modern developments. While admitting the structural advantages of reinforced concrete, he is not an admirer of concrete as a material for exterior surfaces, and advocates the clothing of the structural skeleton with "a garment of permanent, effective, beautiful, ceramic color, unlimited in its variety and worth."—Scientific American.

Those Old-Time Workers.

"When I was a boy," said Mr. Cumrox, "I worked 14 hours a day."
"No, you didn't," replied Mr. Canstux Chex. "My father was keeping the store you worked in. You just hung around 14 hours a day because it was a warm, comfortable place to loaf."

But the Elephant Must Be Fed.

If present conditions continue in certain lines of business there are going to be some people who will simply have to go hungry in order to buy their gasoline.—Boston Transcript.

Although conscription did not apply in Australia, of her total population of less than 5,000,000, 416,000 men and women volunteered for service.

The devotees of the dance were entertained Tuesday night with a portable dance after the chautauqua at the home of Miss Anita Dashi. Most were furnished by a company of the White Husbands, who played at the chautauqua that afternoon and evening.

This flea-bitten world is round like a very baseball, or like a nut, and is slightly flattened at the poles. There are more islands on it than fleas on a public pup and they are just about as hard to pick. Whoever thought Yap was an island? Even today it was the noblest of all the beasts of the field. Why is Yap? Nobody knows. Nobody knows why Runses built the pyramids, or why the ancient world built the mounds or why Rockefeller built his whale of a fortune, but there they are. Why? We hope Congress can locate Yap and get the junior to let Uncle Sam inspect it before he moves in for his might not want it when he gets it. The above cartoon by Alton Packard raps the Yap situation right where Yap yaps, wherever that is. Havana.

TAKE TWO OF THREE FROM CLINTON

Hickman made it two out of three in the series from Clinton, winning the first two 1-0 Thursday. Friday's game was called off on account of rain.

Saturday's match, played at Hickman, ended in a 1-0 victory for the home team. The series was completed by the hitting of a home run by the home team.

In Thursday's game, Wilson was pitched by Hall. Wilson pitched right hand but threw left hand. He pitched the home team's first run off Hall. The home team's first run was scored by the hitting of a home run by the home team.

In Friday's game, Clinton started with a rush, making three off Nantz in the first. Bush who relieved Nantz, in the second held them safe except in the sixth and seventh when they scored five more. Burns started for Clinton and got along well for the first two innings. The home team got to him in the third, however, for one run. In the fourth and fifth, the home team scored again in the sixth and started a barrage of base hits in the seventh. Mr. Burns coming on and Fox going in. Fox didn't get him over in about a dozen attempts and Mercer slammed that one through short for a single and out came Fox. Eight runs were scored in the inning. Kefley, the third sacker went in after Fox and stopped the scoring.

In Sunday's game, the feature of the game was the pitching of Applegate, who held the home team to three hits. Thrasher scored two of these, a three-base hit and a single, and Mercer one a two-base drive. All three hits accounted for the scoring. In the fourth Thrasher hit to the center field fence for three bases and scored on McCuskey's sacrifice fly. In the sixth Thrasher got a base on balls and scored on Mercer's double. Mercer went to third on the throw-in and scored on Thrasher's sacrifice fly. Watkins, pitching for Hickman, twirled a fine game, errors being responsible for every score except three, seven errors being chalked up against the locals.

The comet itself is not expected to be visible to the naked eye. At its brightest, about June 11, it should be of the seventh or eighth magnitude. "I never miss a ball game," said a blind man at the ball game here last Saturday afternoon, played between Clinton and Hickman. This blind man, begging on the streets Sunday, and who makes Hickman every now and then, was one of the most interested of the "spectators" at Sunday's game. He is an enthusiastic fan, keenly alert to every move made, and "hears" the game clear through. He said he had been blind, but that he never misses a game if there is one in the town where he happens to be. He was of much interest to the crowd, as he sat with his head slightly turned, listening to every foul tip, strike, hit and every move made, following the game so perfectly, his hearing permitting him to see the game. He walked from town to the park, made his way to the grand stand, where he could hear well, and was strong for the home team. His keen following of the game was almost mummy.

These Nettles Deal Death.

Any species of nettles is unpleasant enough to handle roughly, but some of the foreign ones are most formidable plants. Several of the East Indian forms are truly dangerous, for, after the first itching sensation has passed away it is often followed by that of hot iron being rubbed on the flesh, and the pain increases to such an extent that after hours—and sometimes days—the patient is seized with symptoms like those following influenza and lockjaw, while sometimes death results.

DAILY MEALS.

One of the important things of life is the planning and serving of three meals a day, which is the work of the housekeeper in every home. To serve these meals so that they appeal to the appetite and supply the proper balance of food is no small task. No woman can feed her family well unless she plans her meals beforehand. The haphazard serving of what happens to be at hand is neither wise nor economical.

The woman who does her marketing herself, as a rule, is the one who gets the best service and often choice foods which will add variety may be found which would otherwise be missed. The best cuts of meat will be seen and bought by the woman doing her own marketing and she learns much about meat by the daily visits with an intelligent butcher.

Carrot Soup.—Scrape and slice six carrots. Peel and chop one onion. Melt three tablespoonsful of bacon fat, add the prepared vegetables, cover and let cook very slowly for one hour until soft; add three pints of broth made from chicken bones and chopped herbs, simmer for half an hour, drain with a tablespoonful of potato soup or cornstarch mixed with a little cold water, added to the soup after draining. Season with salt, pepper and serve hot.

Boned Leg of Lamb.—Stuff the cavity from which the bone has been removed with any good bread dressing, sew with salt pork fat and cook one and three-fourths to two hours. Serve in a platter, garnished with tomatoes sliced with nuts.

Brussels Sprouts With Butter.—Cook a quart of Brussels sprouts in two parts of boiling, salted water until tender. Drain on a cloth, then toss in sautépan with one-fourth of a cupful of melted butter, until the butter is absorbed; sprinkle with chopped parsley and serve in a mound on a serving dish.

RAISE ORPHAN FOAL BY HAND

Not Uncommon for Mare to Die, Leaving Youngster Dependent on Artificial Feeding.

It is not uncommon for a mare to die shortly after foaling, thus leaving her foal dependent on artificial feeding for its sustenance, and since mares furnish an insufficient amount of milk for their colts, cow's milk furnishes a most logical substitute for mare's milk, but as the composition is somewhat different, certain changes or modifications are necessary in order that the orphaned colt be not too dissimilar from the natural. The following table of percentages gives the average composition of the two kinds of milk:

	Cow's Milk	Mare's Milk
Water	87.5%	87.5%
Sugar	4.5%	4.5%
Fat	3.5%	3.5%
Protein	1.5%	1.5%
Minerals	0.5%	0.5%

Milk from a cow as possible and which is not rich in butterfat should be diluted about one-fourth with fresh water. A table-

Patience, Perseverance and Judgment Are Necessary in Raising Orphan Foal.

Spoonful of sugar and about 3 tablespoonfuls of lime water should be added for each pint. This mixture should be supplied to the colt at about body temperature. A bottle with a rubber nipple, or even a finger of a kid glove with a fair-sized hole in it fitted over the end of a spout of a vessel such as a teapot, will serve as a convenient means in getting the foal to take the milk. If the finger of a kid glove is used it should be as clean as possible. At first about one-half a cup of milk should be given every hour, the quantity to be increased slightly and the intervals to be lengthened gradually as the foal grows older. In about 2 months skimmed milk may be substituted for whole milk, and in addition one of the following rations should be fed: One part of flaxseed meal boiled to a jelly, and 2 or 3 parts of bran. Or 2 parts ground oats, 1 part corn meal, one half part flaxseed meal. Or 2 parts of bran, 2 parts corn meal, and 1 part oil meal. Feed a double handful a day to start with, and increase the amount gradually.

Raising a foal by hand is not a job for the careless and indifferent. It requires patience, painstaking care, perseverance, judgment, and skillfulness. The vessel in which the milk is supplied should be scrubbed thoroughly each time it is used. Unclean receptacles for the milk and irregular intervals for feeding likely will cause scours. The quarters should be very clean and the orphaned foal should have company of some kind. Another foal is desirable, but even a calf is better than no company. A grassy paddock with abundant shade, fresh water and protection from flies will increase the orphan's chance of proper development.

To Stop a Cough Quick

take HAYES' HEALING HONEY, a cough medicine which stops the cough by healing the inflamed and irritated tissues. A box of GROVES' O-PEN-TRATE SALVE for Chest Colds, Head Colds and Grip is enclosed with every bottle of HAYES' HEALING HONEY. The salve should be rubbed on the chest and throat of children suffering from a Cold or Grip. The healing effect of Hayes' Healing Honey inside the throat combined with the healing effect of Groves' O-Pen-Trate Salve through the pores of the skin soon stops a cough. Both remedies are packed in one carton and the cost of the combined treatment is 35c. Just ask your druggist for HAYES' HEALING HONEY.

PONS-WINNECKE NOT DANGEROUS

Shooting Stars and Spectacular Meteors—
No Shower to Accompany Visit.

The Pons-Winnecke comet, discovered by Pons at Marseilles in 1849 and next observed by Winnecke at Bonn in 1858, travels once around the sun in 68 years, and during this month it will be only a few millions of miles from the earth. While there is not even the remotest possibility of a collision between the two bodies, a meteoric shower in display of shooting stars—may occur at some time in the latter half of this month. However, no one is justified in saying that the shower will or will not occur, and in any case not the slightest cause for anxiety exists.

A comet is not a solid body, such as the earth or moon, but is believed, according to all the evidence, to be a collection of gases, vapors and innumerable solid masses, the latter varying from microscopic dust particles up to bodies a few inches or a few feet in diameter. When a comet is in the vicinity of the sun, the extremely finely divided materials in its makeup are expelled in a direction away from the comet's head by some repulsive force originating in the sun, and it is this finely divided material traveling out from the head which forms the comet's tail. This procedure, repeated at successive returns of a comet, finally robs it of all its tail materials. Again, when the comet is near the sun the sun's gravitational attraction acts more strongly upon the nearer cometary masses than upon the more distant ones. The nearer ones are compelled to travel more rapidly in smaller orbits, and the farther ones move slowly in large orbits, with the consequence that the component bodies are scattered more and more along the orbit of the comet. The orbits of the several particles will in due time develop considerable differences of position and what we may call the bundle of cometary orbits will acquire a great diameter. The distance between the orbits may amount to several million miles.

It is a well established fact that many comets have actually become fainter and fainter to a final state of invisibility in the manner and for the reasons just described. For several such comets whose orbits pass close to the earth's orbit there are meteoric showers resulting from collisions of the scattered cometary particles within the earth's atmosphere. Many of these particles enter the atmosphere with speeds of twenty, thirty or forty miles per second, and the friction with the atmosphere immediately in front of the rapidly moving bodies generate heat in a mere fraction of a second sufficient to make the small masses burst into flames and be consumed long before they can get down to the earth's surface. The mild display of meteors always visible on the nights of August 9, 10 and 11, especially after midnight, is due to collisions with the fragments of the third comet of 1802. The startling shower of shooting stars observed in 1838 and again in 1860, resulted from collisions with small masses which formerly belonged to the first comet of 1801. Tons of millions of such small bodies, coming in masses from the infinitesimal up to those usually weighing many grains or ounces, but occasionally pounds and tons, collide with our atmosphere's upper strata every twenty-four hours, but seldom does one of these come through to the habitation of man. The great museums contain a few thousand such bodies which were not fully consumed in their descent through the atmosphere, and while these findings are but a small percentage of those hurled a few inches or a few feet below the earth's surface, it is not known that any human being has received injury from the rich celestial bombardment which has in all probability been continuous thru thousands of years.

A considerable number of meteors observed in June 1906, by Mr. Bennett, the leading meteor observer of Great Britain, and others at the same time by Dr. Oliver, the chief American student of meteors, were found to be moving in orbits paralleling that of the Pons-Winnecke comet, but a long distance behind the position of the visible comet itself in the orbit. The inference is strong that these meteors were the results of collisions with widely scattered fragments of the comet. Inasmuch as the ordinary small companions of the comet, doubtless numbered in billions, are not of themselves visible, no one is authorized to say definitely that similar collisions with the earth's atmosphere will occur in the latter half of June. The number of shooting stars then observed and having their origin in the Pons-Winnecke comet may be more, or relatively few, or very great. The comet itself is not expected to be visible to the naked eye. At its brightest, about June 11, it should be of the seventh or eighth magnitude. The faintest stars of the sixth magnitude, occasionally the brilliance of the comet increases in erratic manner, but even so a view of the comet will doubtless be for those who have telescopic assistance.

"I never miss a ball game," said a blind man at the ball game here last Saturday afternoon played between Clinton and Hickman. This blind man, begging on the streets Saturday, and who makes Hickman every now and then, was one of the most interested of the "spectators" at Sunday's game. He is an enthusiastic fan, keenly alert to every move made, and "hears" the game clear through. He said he had been born blind, but that he never misses a game if there is one in the town where he happens to be. He was of much interest to the crowd, as he sat with his head slightly turned, listening to every foul tip, strike, hit and every run made, following the game so perfectly, his hearing permitting him to see the game. He walked from town to the park, made his way to the grand stand, where he could hear well, and was strong for the home team. His keen following of the game was almost amazing.

FULTON OFFICER SHOTS NEGRO.

This morning at 2 o'clock, Night Officer Ed Drysdale and Harve Hart surprised Ezell Moss, a negro, while he was engaged in burglarizing the drug store of Irby & Redfearn on Lake Street. When the officers entered the store the negro made a dash in their direction and both men opened fire on him. Each fired three shots and all shots took effect.

Moss was carried to Padonah this morning and local physicians state that he will not likely live through the day.—Monday's Fulton Leader.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSE'S REPORT.

At the last meeting of the Health and Welfare League it was decided to publish a monthly report of the activities of the Public Health Nurse for two reasons: That the public, which contributed to the fund, which supports the work may know what is being done, and also to bring to the attention of the community the need for cooperation and interest upon the part of all in order that the greatest measure of good may be gotten out of our Public Health Service.

The nurse feels that an undue proportion of the cases treated are preventable and from time to time as these reports are published, she wishes to call attention to certain situations or needs which, if corrected, would lessen disease. This month she has found a great deal of dysentery, than which few diseases are more contagious, and she feels that the undoubted spread of this trouble could be almost, if not entirely, prevented if sanitary conditions were better. In West Hickman especially house after house is unsanitary and there is also no adequate, decent, much less sanitary, toilet arrangement. In such surroundings where flies wander at will from refuse and garbage heap to sickroom and kitchen, we will have not only dysentery but malaria and typhoid. If there is tuberculosis, or any other highly communicable disease in the neighborhood these flies will carry their load.

If the landlords who own houses in West Hickman could go with the nurse or some of her calls and see the conditions they would blush to think that they have allowed human beings to live in such a way. It is too strong to call such landlords inhuman but they are either ignorant or thoughtless. In either case helpless people are paying the price of their ignorance and lack of interest, and they might regard it as a good business investment if nothing else is put in a sanitary toilet arrangement of some kind and to screen the windows and doors of the houses they rent because well people are more apt to pay rent than sick ones. This statement by the health authorities is not meant as a bitter arraignment of the landlords of Hickman, but it is made simply to call attention to a situation wherein a simple remedy can prevent disease and save lives.
